SUNWA was formed in 1994 as a special interest nursing association for nurses interested in, or working in the specialty of Urology Nursing.

Our Aim

The Society of Urological Nurses Western Australia has been established with the aim of promoting a communication network for those nurses and health professionals with a special interest in urology. The Society provides a forum for education, research and the sharing of ideas and information. It will endeavour to promote the highest standards of practice in urological nursing.

Membership

Open to Registered and Enrolled nurses and will be eligible for membership on receipt of this application and payment.

Members are entitled to quarterly newsletters, use of educational resources, attendance at all educational seminars. Other than Affiliated memberships, Ordinary and Life memberships have full voting rights at the annual general meeting.

Automatic membership to ANZUNS (Australia and New Zealand Urological Nursing Society) is granted to a person working in or interested in urology nursing, providing they are a financial member of any association of SUNWA.

Subscription

Annual subscription for 1st July 2018 - 30th June 2019 is $70 for metropolitan nurses and $40 for rural nurses. This is payable to the society prior to completion of the financial year. Affiliated membership is available on request and at the discretion of the executive committee for interested professionals and companies. $20 goes towards ANZUNS membership.

Privacy

Your name and contact information, including electronic address, may be used by SUNWA and provided to other approved parties for the purposes of promotion, networking and administration. If you do not consent, please contact SUNWA by email.
